The Senior Class of Hobart High School

Hobart, Indiana, presents

The 1945 Aurora

A Story of Our School Life

Jean Gordon, Editor-in-chief

Billie Ann Houy, Business Manager

Our School

- So Proudly
We Served -

We will remember

On Commencement Day, all those who would have graduated with Our Class, but who are now in the service of their country, and Richard Smith, a beloved classmate who died in the summer of 1942.

Class of '45

Foreword

This is your story, a story in pictures of the little everyday happenings at Our School. You were all a part of this story. All of you were the nucleus from which the plot unwound. We have tried to bring you this story as realistically as our activities permit. We have tried to put down the things you want to remember — the happy memories that will live with you forever.

Jean Gordon
Editor-in-Chief

Superintendent of Schools Harlie Garver and Betty Mae Schane, office secretary.

Principal Wallace Aylesworth and Bern Trager, registrar.

Administration

Their job doubly increased by the stress of war, we commend Mr. Garver, Mr. Aylesworth, and the members of the school board for the splendid work they have done throughout the year toward the improvement of Our School.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

John Ledyard, Secretary

Byron Mellon, Treasurer

Herbert Carlson, President

Harlie Garver, Superintendent

Our hard-working Aurora staff

— — with cooperation as their password, had a difficult job in creating a book that would interest the whole school.

Through Four Joy-filled Years

CLASS OFFICERS

Left to right:

Frank Martino, Treasurer; Walter Zander, President; Margaret Howatt, Vice-President; Donna Lou Kewley, Secretary

CLASS SPONSORS

Left to right:

Helen Hinshaw; Howard Yunker; Nelson Golden; Donald Pound; Charles Meyer

Under their leadership - -

The Senior Class accomplished much of the impossible. Walter Zander, with the aid and wise counsel of the class sponsors, directed the work of innumerable committees toward our one goal—Commencement. The officers, working tirelessly, are more than worthy of the praise we offer here.

HONOR STUDENTS

Donna Kewley

HIS HONOR, THE MAYOR

Frank Martino receives the key to the city presented by Senior Class President Walter Zander.

Always working with the Student Council toward improvement, Frank did an excellent job. During his administration, the Recreation Room became a reality, the locker problem was greatly lessened, and order was restored at convocations.

The "Home Work Shop" was formed as a new club this year. The members decided to experiment by working with plastics. War-time limitations have hampered obtaining materials; however, the ground work has been laid for such time as release of choice materials.

Quill and Scroll Scribes

President—Jean Gordon

Vice-President—Valeria Grey

Secretary-Treasurer—Violet Wilfong

Sponsor—Helen Hinshaw

QUILL AND SCROLL International Honorary Society for High School Journalists

This organization was founded in 1906 at Iowa State Teachers College by a group of journalism teachers who felt that there should be some form of recognition for unusual achievement by high school students in the publication field.

In addition to doing superior work in journalism the student must be in the upper third of his class scholastically, be recommended by the sponsor, and submit a copy of his best work for the approval of the executive secretary of the society at international headquarters.

The Curtain Goes Up On The Thespians

President—Guileen Lindsey

Vice-President—Walter Zander

Secretary—Patricia Krull

Treasurer—Doris Enslen

Sponsor—Jeanne Vawter

Skits, pantomimes, readings, monologues, and short plays were presented by the members at the Thespians' meetings and discussions were held on make-up and stage techniques.

Besides donating money to the Junior Red Cross, the purchase price of five lockers was presented to the school.

Student Council - Locker of Lockers

Mayor—Frank Martino
Secretary—Patronella Krubsack

Sponsor—Donald Pound

Having the Blue Room as its outstanding contribution to the school, the Student Council leaves a memorable record for next year's group to equal.

The "Lock Your Lockers" campaign worked wonders to diminish one of our biggest problems, and their convocation ushering was a feather in the cap of progress.

Organization of the Student Council follows the Mayor-Council plan of City government, with one member from each home room and four from the Senior room making up the Common Council. A mayor is elected in a school-wide campaign.

Seated: Frank Martino, Patronella Krubsack.

Boosters Won Fame For Snappy Pep Sessions

President: Shirley Schoon

Vice-president: Bob Nelson

Secretary: Shirley Moon

Treasurer: Tommy Bishop

Sponsor: Mildred McKenna

The Booster's Club was reorganized in September to replace a defunct club which was discontinued four years ago. The purpose of this club has been to boost all school activities. Its program has included pep sessions for football, basketball, sectional tournament, and rallies for the Junior Red Cross, war stamps sales and the purchase of new lockers. The Boosters have sponsored two school dances.

The aim of the Commercial Club is to enable students to become better acquainted with correct office procedure. A day was spent visiting offices and other interesting places in Chicago. Social events consisted of a picnic, Christmas party and a Mothers' Tea and Senior Farewell.

President—Mary Hargis
Secretary—Rita Pratt
Treasurer—Joan Steinback
Sponsor—Miss Holman

Originating in 1943, the International Club has tried to promote interest in acquaintance with, and understanding of young people of other parts of the world. The aim of the club has been carried out most satisfactorily through the exchange of letters. Members maintain pleasant interchange of letters in the world's untroubled areas, although extensive correspondence is restricted because of the war. The club has supported generously the Junior Red Cross drive for funds.

Bob Nelson happily straightens Bob Carlson's bow tie for the next scene in the senior play, "Big Hearted Herbert."

Hold still, Robert!

For once we find Bob Carlson with his mouth shut and Miss Vawter on the business end of the lipstick.

Soup's on! Walter Zander as Herbert gives Sylvia Gilbert, his daughter, a look of disdain as she clumsily serves their dinner.

First row:

Sylvia Gilbert as Alice Kaldness, Annette Petersen, Mrs. Havens, Don Trenlway, Robert Kaldness, Gailen Lindsey, Mrs. Kaldness, Pauline Moll, maid.

Second row:

Harry Kueffel, Mr. Havens, Bob Nelson, young Goodrich, Lowell Enslon, Uncle Jim Lawrence, Walter Zander, Herbert Kaldness, and Bob Carlson as Junior Kaldness.

Not shown are:

David Adams and Madeline Barelio, Mr. and Mrs. Goodrich, Tess Brazanski, Aunt Amy Lawrence.

... after one of its most successful years. Its marching season has been exceptionally good. Many new formations and novelty numbers were introduced which proved humorous and entertaining. Perhaps the most difficult was the Virginia Reel in which several band members actually did dance to the "hillbilly" band music offered for this particular number. The climax of the season was the performance in October at Dyche Stadium, Northwestern University.

The concert season was high-lighted by the 20th Anniversary Concert in March at which William D. Revelli of Michigan University, organizer and first director of the band, was guest conductor. More people turned out for this event than could be accommodated and many were turned away.

During the year we have seen new accomplishments and recognitions. This has come about through the good leadership, co-operation and hard work exhibited in this organization. Our most able conductor, Mr. Ebbs, has worked with the group now for four years and Hobart has prospered by his guidance.

It is expected, and perhaps too often taken for granted by outsiders, that there is unusual personal responsibility in being a member of this musical group. Therefore, we do here wish to congratulate the conductor and each member for the grand job done this year. You have made a famous name for yourselves and we are truly proud of you!

Each Year the Vocal Department of our School

—has become more important and that is because each year it has become more active.

Miss Hackman, our director of vocal music, has been here two years and last year we began to really appreciate the local talent when she sponsored an operetta entitled "An Old Kentucky Garden". This year our appreciation was increased when we saw the hilarious minstrel "Georgia Jubilee" in which many of our students turned out black faced and dressed in clever costumes of brilliant color. Many times have we also heard the vocal groups at convos and programs.

HIGH SCHOOL CHORUS

Belonging to such groups is work but also a lot of fun. Just ask someone who has been in a chorus class and he will tell you.

We will not, however, stop after looking back upon what has been done but we, moreover, look ahead to what will come. For if you have talked with the director and heard the hopes and plans she has for her groups you feel certain there will be more.

So to the departments of vocal music—keep up your good work, we'll be keeping an eye on you for the future.

The Vocal Ensemble and Glee Club

"Music hath charm" and especially when it is easy on the eyes as well as the ears. The Girls' Vocal Ensemble meets regularly several times each week, studies together, and comes up with the amazing results that have been heard at convocations, special programs, and entertainment for local organizations. Novelty numbers and modern renditions of old songs have added variety to many of them. Individual talent in this group is one of the factors which enables them to achieve so much.

GIRLS' VOCAL ENSEMBLE

GLEE CLUB

Seated: Jean Nagel, Carol Schavey, Eileen Keammer, Alice Farlow, Shirley Stokes. Because they think singing can be fun these girls have chosen to belong to the Glee Club.

Meetings are spent in singing selected and favorite songs. Late in the school year a hike and weenie roast were combined for the second semester party. Members enjoyed a trip to Chicago in March to see the operetta "Blossom Time." Recordings of the songs in the operetta were purchased for the music department.

Contributions from the treasury were given to the Junior Red Cross and to the school to buy lockers.

Don Treadway

On offense Don drove hard, lugging the leather for gains on almost every trip.

Bob Schavey

Bob was our hard-charging right guard who caused many a "T" formation quarterback no little anxiety.

Walter Zander

Walt was another tackle whose defensive ability made him a menace to all opposition.

Don Tracy

Don played the other guard and was most valuable on offense for his blocking ability.

Bob Rosenbaum

Bob was the quarterback of the 1944 eleven. His passing did much for the squad.

Jim Marcoff

Jim played the opposite end where his defensive ability made him an asset to the team.

Gordon Macy

"Mace," our left end, could always be counted on when it came to pass-catching.

Charles Bridgeman

Chuck was a center and was known for his good sportsmanship.

Jack Burke

Jack played left tackle and was noted for his ability to crack through opposing linemen.

James "Tiny" Alexander

"Tiny," our 264-pound right tackle, presented a fearful sight to opposing backfield men.

Good Teams Must Have Good Leaders - -

Bob Green, captain-elect for the 1945 football team, is pictured here in his center stance. Bob filled the position of center on the 1944 squad where his excellent defense work was a menace to all opponents and his accurate passing made him a valuable asset to the team. Boo-Boo, as he was nicknamed, played tackle as a freshman and then was shifted to the position of end when he became a sophomore. In addition to thwarting many a ground attack Bob also proved capable in stopping an aerial offense, as was shown in the Griffith game where he intercepted and galloped for 62 yards for our only score of the contest.

A good season is predicted for the '45 squad under the leadership of their captain, Bob Green.

As a wartime measure our basketball coach, Mr. Frank E. Kurth, took a hand at heading the football squad, along with Mr. Donald Pound, building trades instructor, as co-coach. Although the coaches cannot boast of an unusually successful season as to games won and lost, it can truly be said of these men, that they tried their best and really, after all, gained for the boys a big step toward the real goals of physical education which are the development of good sportsmanship and clean living as well as physical development.

- - and Plenty of Vocal Backing

Although losing, the 1944 Brickie squad had a winning spirit which was carried over by our three varsity cheerleaders, Eileen Smythe, Francis Stewart, and Mary Smith.

This spirit must have been well conveyed for the attendance at the games started out good and as the season progressed it became better.

There was also a group of cheerleaders who boosted the reserve basketball team. There were Gwen Sohn, Shirley Moon, Marilyn Johnson, Betty Greenlee, and Tommy Bishop. This quintet of sophomores did very well and are expected to develop into some outstanding varsity yell leaders.

The 1944 season was a comparatively unsuccessful one with the Brickies winning two, losing six, and tying one.

In the initial contest, the Brickies met a powerful Froebel eleven and, although losing, played what was believed to be one of their best games of the schedule as they held the Blue Devils to only twelve points. The boys probably would have equaled this score, since they were within scoring territory twice, had it not been for injuries sustained in the first half by fullback Carl Fasel, and running half Bob Havrilla. In the next encounter, it was LaPorte all the way as the Slicers posted a 27 to 6 win over the Brickies on the home gridiron. It was not until our third game that the Brickie footballers realized their first victory when they beat Lowell on the opponent's field by a score of 13 to 7.

The local eleven then played host to the Griffith Panthers. It was in this game that Brickie fans were afforded one of the biggest thrills of the 1944 season when center Bob Green intercepted a Griffith pass and galloped 65 yards under excellent blocking for the only Hobart score. The Griffith eleven, however, were fighting hard and managed to punch their way to the 20-yard line where they scored around Hobart's left end. As both teams failed to convert, the game ended in a 6-6 deadlock.

The Ho-Hi gridsters then traveled to Crown Point where they took a 2-0 decision from the Bulldogs by a safety gained by left tackle Jack Burke. It was in this game that the Kurthmen lost the valuable services of their right end, Jim Marcoff, because of injuries.

After Crown Point came Valpo, with a backfield which proved too much for the boys as the Vikings held the Brickies scoreless while they came through with 13 points. On the following Wednesday the Brickies encountered Joe Stevens from Tolleston under the local floods. The Raiders got a 24-0 win over the Brickies; all of which were made by "Joltin' Joe."

The Hammond Catholic Central Warriors were next, their tricky "T" formation causing the downfall of the Brickie gridsters as the Centralites marched to a 30-6 victory over the injury-hampered Hobart eleven. Again the Purple and Gold met the Vikings of Valparaiso, this time on the opponent's field where the prevailing rains made a sea of mud of the football field. The mud proved to be no handicap to the Green and White who crossed into pay dirt twice while the local eleven could manage only one tally. Both teams made their conversions good and the battle ended 14 to 7 in favor of the opponents.

The first game of the 1944-45 season found the Brickie basketballers taking the Wildcats of Wheeler by a score of 37-27. The second game proved to be quite a bit tougher as the local five bowed to a strong Tolleston team in Memorial Auditorium at Gary. It was on this same floor, just one week later, that the Hobart hardwooders administered their most outstanding upset of the season to the Norsemen of Emerson High, Gary sectional champs, to the tune of a 31-29 victory. After losing to Lowell and East Gary, the Brickies went on to post their highest score of the season over Hammond Catholic Central. Another victory followed, this time at the expense of the Gary Edison Blazers. The Ho-Hi quintet then traveled to Crown Point for the holiday tournament, in which they beat E. C. Roosevelt in the preliminary, but were beaten in the final by the Bulldogs of Crown Point.

But the Brickies were not to be outdone as they came back from Christmas vacation to down the Crown Point five in a one-sided battle by a score of 36-22. The Lowell Red Devils then pushed the Brickies into a back seat with their speed and shooting ability which again proved too much for them. The local five were then host to the Griffith Panthers in one of the most thrilling games ever witnessed in the Roosevelt Gym. It was in this game that the boys could truly be called the "fighting" Brickies as they came from behind to beat the Griffith five by only two points. The game could easily have gone into an overtime if it hadn't been for wide awake officials who disqualified a last minute Griffith basket because time was up although the gun had not gone off.

Next the boys traveled to Hammond where Central handed the Brickies a startling upset since it was this same five who had furnished the Ho-Hi hardwooders with their most impressive victory earlier in the season. The Hobartites then met the Portage Indians, toppling over them by a score of 36 to 24. Next came Chesterton which was undoubtedly the roughest game of the schedule, but the Brickies provided that they could not only take a little rough stuff, but also dish it out as they emerged victorious by an 11 point victory margin. The boys then got their third straight win, furnished by the Troopers of Wirt. After winning three the Brickies took a trip to the Eagles' nest where a tall and veteran East Gary five took the Kurthmen for the second time during the season. The Griffith Panthers afforded the Brickies with their eleventh win of the season, at Griffith by a score of 34 to 30. In our next to the last battle it was Valpo all the way as the Vikings put the skids under a hot Brickie five, winning 33 to 37. Our last fray, with Crown Point, was a repetition of the mid-season victory furnished them by the Bulldogs.

It was then sectional time. The Brickies drew the weak Dyer team for the first game. The local quintet breezed through this initial contest in fine style but the old sectional jinx caught up with them as an inspired East Gary Edison team beat the Brickies for the third time in a year. However, considering everything, it was a very successful season and here's wishing the 1945-46 squad equal or better success.
